If you’ve ever thought about making your own skincare or haircare, our article on 8 reasons to make your own skincare even if there’s plenty to buy will give you the confidence to get started. And, in today’s post, we’re making it even easier by sharing the 10 best beauty products you can make at home – with no experience needed!

MAKE YOUR OWN BEAUTY PRODUCTS AND TRANSFORM YOUR LIFE

Many of today’s beauty giants trace their origins back to a single passionate entrepreneur mixing ingredients in their kitchen or a makeshift home lab. Visionaries like Elizabeth Arden, Helena Rubinstein, and Estée Lauder built global and iconic empires – but their journeys began with nothing more than a fascination with beauty products and a desire to create something of their own.

But you don’t have to launch a beauty empire to enjoy the benefits of creating your own products. Whether you want to become more self-sufficient, craft personalised gifts for loved ones, sell your creations at local markets, or simply learn something new, formulating is a great, empowering skill to have.

Making your own beauty products is not only fun and empowering, it’s also easy, and anyone can do it. In fact, you don’t need to be a chemist to formulate and we have taught tens of thousands of students how to formulate safe and effective skincare from the comfort of their home.
